

Car Owners Beware!

Thieves Break Into Cars During Church Services

In the last several weeks, thieves are breaking into cars in the surrounding counties, including Owsley County. So far, cars have been hit in Powell, Wolfe, Clark, Owsley, Lee and Breathitt.

Sheriff Kelly Shouse stated that a car was broken into at the Calvary Temple Assembly of God (Church on the Farm) last week. The owners came out of the Prayer & Share Services to find their car window broken out and Several months ago, during the Sunday Worship Service, a car trunk was broken into and $1000 was stolen.

Wednesday night a car was broken into at Warrens Chapel at Vincent, KY.

Stolen was the victim's purse, which contained $600. The purse was later found in the creek by the Travelers' Rest Assembly of God.

According to Sheriff Shouse, two more vehicles were broken into in Lee County one at the Jehovah's Witness Church on Highway 11 and the other at the Beattyville Church of God also on Highway 11.

Last Thursday morning, a crew was working on a bridge on KY 52 when Edward Baker found two purses thrown over the hill. He immediately contacted the authorities in Breathitt County. Chief Kenneth Spicer of the Jackson City Police Department stated that the two purses were stolen from the 1st Church of God on highway 52, just a ½ mile from where the purses were found. The two cars were parked behind the church and were broken into on October 27th during regular services. Cash and jewelry were stolen from the purses.

Chief Spicer stated that a Silver/Gold Durango was spotted in the area. Sheriff Shouse has asked everyone to always take your valuables out of your car. Chief Kenneth Spicer of the Jackson City Police Department stated that even putting your purse in the trunk is not safe, thieves are watching and with the easy access to the trunk from most of the new model cars, breaking into the trunk is now relatively easy. If you have any information about one of the thefts, contact the Owsley County Sheriff's Office at 593-5161.

At this event, we discussed breast cancer facts and the importance of self-breast exams. November is National Adoption Month

Every year, more than 100,000 children in foster care are available for adoption. Many spend more than five years waiting for permanent, loving homes, according to the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.

To raise awareness and help these children find permanent adoptive homes, each November the Children's Bureau, in partnership with AdoptUSKids and Child Welfare Information Gateway, sponsors National Adoption Month. The initiative, which has been held yearly since 1995, also serves to celebrate adoption and recognize families with adopted children.

The month-long celebration also includes National Adoption Day, when courthouses nationwide participate in finalizing hundreds and hundreds of adoptions simultaneously. This year it is being held on November 23rd. In 2012, more than 4,500 children were adopted during the National Adoption Day celebration in almost 400 cities across the United States.

November 1, 2013

To the Citizens of Owsley County and neighboring counties:

Time must come when an attorney concludes his last case, closes his last file and retires from his lifelong occupation. This letter is providing notification of my retirement effective December 31, 2013. I was admitted to the Kentucky State Bar in 1968 and was fortunate to return home to establish my legal career in Owsley County. I wish to express gratitude for being able to do so and am very appreciative of all the support provided over the years.

A special thank you to my clients and colleagues who have made my vocation both interesting and exciting. I have been referred to as viewing legal issues in colors of black or white with no gray areas. However throughout my career, I have always tried to search for the truth, to speak the truth and to uphold the truth. As my late father told me, "law is a jealous mistress", I discovered a lawyer must be vigilant with the ever-changing laws and should be only devoted to the time-consuming legal profession. For forty-five years, I have really enjoyed being an attorney and of service but now I am looking forward to new adventures through my retirement.

A special thank you to all of the agencies, organizations, clubs and officials whom I have worked with over the years. Working together to seek a common goal has been a lifelong accomplishment and hopefully will continue to be a meaningful part of my life. My retirement is only from the legal service and not from humanity concerns.

A special thank you to present and past employees who helped to maintain an enjoyable atmosphere. Never having a large staff, I was privileged to work with amazing individuals who were dedicated, trustworthy, reliable, etc., for which I am truly grateful.

A special thank you to my wife and son for always standing with me and supporting my hectic schedules, demanding work, irregular priorities and urgent emergencies! I am proud my family has been able to share this fascinating journey with me and I am excited to share the remarkable future with them as well!

Again a special thank you to everyone for participating in a truly remarkable forty-five (45) years legal experience!

Sincerely,

Kendall Robinson

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Concerned Citizens and Loving Families of Owsley County

Please take this bit of advice/knowledge that I offer from first hand experience, and know, never doubt that its on its way. No place is safe, no matter how big or small. This is a demon that is easily 100 times worse than any you have ever imagined. There is no drug more dangerous. Please tell your loved ones who may have a problem to stay away. Heroin doesn't offer any second chances and its never safe. It's a fight that no man or woman wants to fight.

Brutal Master "Straight to Hell"

You carried them for 9 months.
I'll take over now on their journey "Straight to Hell"
You wiped away all their tears
I'll cause more tears than you can ever wipe away
They couldn't walk when they were little
Now they'll walk all over you
You taught them not to lie and steal
I will make them lie, while they look you in the eye
And steal from you when you leave the room
You remember as kids they cried about shots
Now they'll cry for a shot
I will make the GOOD child you raised, turn on you
Once they'll get a piece of me
There will be no other way
I will be the love of their life
Without me they simply cannot be
They will forget who they are
And be whoever I want them to be
They can smoke me, snort me, or shoot me
We will become one; just the two of us
My name is Heroin and I'm coming
Grab onto me and I can PROMISE a ride "Straight to Hell".

Dear Ms. Barrett,

Last week I was fortunate enough to get to journey though the mountains to enjoy the fall foliage. I made sure to include a trip to Booneville so I could visit with a dear friend.

I needed directions so I stopped at the Owsley Co. Public Library. It was an unexpected "ah ha" moment. Booneville has a jewel. When I went inside I couldn't help but notice all the details that made it so inviting. The wreaths on the door, comfortable furniture, the decorated grapevine tree with its furry white owls, the scent of apple cider and the friendly smile of the lady behind the desk. If I hadn't been pressed for time, I would have had to investigate the well stocked stacks, found a good book and curled up for a while.

If I were a resident in your community I would be found in your library in some capacity, volunteering or maybe just curled up enjoying a good book. Your residents are very fortunate indeed.

Sincerely,
Nancy Fitzwater

I will always wonder if the theme with owls was for October, Halloween or a clever use to incorporate the word, Owsley. Kudos to your library!

Eastside Apartment News

by Ruby Callahan

Hello from Eastside. Another week has gone by with some good and bad weather. It sure has a lot of people sick with colds and allergies.

I had a surprise call from sister Pam Willhite. They are coming down for church services on Fish Trap Hill again. The services will be in the evening. Sister Pam prayed for my family and friends. Everyone make plans to be at church and get a blessing. Date to be announced.

I went to church Friday and had a special prayer service for brother Earl Seales, his daughter Susie, and son in law Joe. Joe had a heart attack and is in the hospital. Susie needs prayer to take care of him and to take care of their children while he is in the hospital. Our prayers are for the sick and those who have lost loved ones.

OWSLEY COUNTY SCHOOL NEWS

HALLOWEEN AT OCHS

Students and staff at Owsley County High School got to experience trick or treating on Halloween day with an educational twist. They were treated to a tour of a pumpkin art gallery created by Mrs. Stevi Nolan's arts and humanities students while tricked by the life science students of Mrs. Jennifer Hall with a walk through a haunted lab, which explained the science behind Halloween.

About 70 total students began working on the project on Monday. The art students worked diligently using acrylic paint, hot glue, crayons and even a torch lighter to create pumpkins of every variety. Free to create their own ideas, the students crafted sports pumpkins, pumpkins for a cure, in the picture pumpkins and of course pumpkins of fright.

Visitors of the school experienced a strange sight in the library seeing students blow dry their pumpkins before adding the next layer of detail to their masterpieces. Each day the students carried art supplies to different rooms, prepared their studios, cleaned water spills, brushes and the occasional accident, then packed it all up for the next day. It was great to see so many students actively engaged in learning and creating art. They painted many spectacular designs and students voted on their favorite pumpkin. Blue Daniel was our winner with her creation of "Tominion". The students greatly enjoyed their painting project, being free to create and personalize their pumpkin that gave them a better appreciation of the arts-one of the goals of our class.

The haunted lab was the perfect place to display the pumpkins with dim lights, spider webs, glow in the dark creatures and spooky music to set the mood as the tour continued from the gallery on to the lab. Each station represented an aspect of Halloween with the scientific explanation to go along with it. Albert Einstein was present to watch their every move at the optical illusion station. A balancing bird taught them about mass and centers of gravity as they balanced it on the tip of their fingers and the edge of a ruler. Magic tricks were performed with pH indicators, acids and bases as students used colorless solutions to create color only to take it away. The alley of bones gave students a lesson of the skeletal system while the zombie bucket illustrated the difference in humans and zombies. One of the favorite spots was the slime station. Visitors stuck their hands into a bucket of green slime scientifically known as a unique polymer of cornstarch and water exhibiting properties of both a solid and liquid. The life science students worked hard to create both an educational and entertaining experience for the students, staff and visitors to enjoy.

The event was a huge success with suggestions pouring in to make it bigger and better next year. Special thanks to Ms. Candrea Bingham and agriculture students for supplying the pumpkins.

Students Spend the Week with Musician/Storyteller Mitch Barrett

Students at OCHS are spending the week with musician and storyteller Mitch Barrett. This program is made possible through Berea College and Promised Neighborhoods. Mitch is playing traditional Appalachian music on guitar, dulcimer, and flute. He is incorporating the art of Appalachian storytelling as he plays music. Students are also discussing methods for writing their own stories and songs.

Owsley County FFA is participating in the RAM Truck Program

Tanner Dodge of Stanton KY is sponsoring the Owsley County FFA again this year in the RAM Truck Program. FFA members set up during the Woolly Worm Festival in Beattyville to sell bumper stickers that fit the Dodge Truck initiative of "The Year of the Farmer." With the purchase of a bumper sticker participants are entered to win at 2014 Dodge Ram Truck. Bumper stickers cost $5.00 each, and can be purchased from a local FFA member. 100% of the proceeds from the RAM Truck program go to the Kentucky FFA. Owsley County FFA members are using the funds to purchase FFA jackets, attend National FFA Convention, and other local programming needs. For more information about this program please contact Candrea Bingham-Johnson at 593-5185.

Bible Club at OCHS

Students at OCHS have started a Bible club. Students lead and participate in scripture reading, prayer, and devotional lesson each week. The OCHS Bible Club meets every Tuesday morning in the library from 7:40-8:00. Teachers and students are welcome. Bibles will be available or bring your own Bible!

Blue Daniel, the 1st place winner of the pumpkin contest is showing off her artwork!

Bullying Curriculum at OCHS

Crystal Osborne, 4-H agent with the Owsley County Cooperative Extension Service is working with sixth grade classes on a six week bullying curriculum. She is discussing with them different ways bullying occurs and strategies they can use to prevent bullying. Students are actively learning these strategies through teamwork, role playing and group discussions.

BUFFALO VISITS OCHS

Through Berea College and Promised Neighborhood, the students at OCHS were able to spend a week with Susan Mullins, a Native American from the Mohawk Tribe from Canada. Mrs. Mullins now lives in Berea. She brought many Native American artifacts to share with students including her ceremonial drum and other musical instruments, clothing, tools, and animal hides. Students were able to play the instruments, try on the clothes, and discuss with her how everything was made and all parts of the animals were used in making all these items. The week ended with an exciting day of seeing her live buffalo and hearing about the history of this animal.

OUTDOORS

by
GARY MILLER

Bio

Gary Miller is an outdoor writer, author, and speaker. He also serves as Pro Staff for several hunting companies including PSE Archery, Schiek Sports, Ky. Antler Company, and Alpen Optics. His sponsors include Hevi-Shot and Lacrosse Boots. When he is not writing or speaking, you'll find him in a tree stand, a turkey blind, or on the river. He has written 3 books, Outdoor Truths, Hunting and Fishing for Answers Volumes I and II and Devotions from a Hunting, Fishing, and Sports Father, to His Son. The Outdoor Truths series are each a compilation of the articles he has written over time. He has been married to Teresa for over 30 years, and they have three children and two grandchildren. Outdoor Truths is a weekly sportsmen's article that appears in newspapers, regional magazines, and online across the South, and Midwest. It is a blend of observations and experiences that have come over time from being in God's great outdoors.

Intro article OUTDOOR TRUTHS

An atheist hunter? That's one term I have never heard. I'm sure there is someone out there who would fit this description, but I've never met him. In fact just the opposite is true. Those who spend their time in the woods or on the water can't help but see God in all creation.

Even though we may have different theological views, all hunters and fishermen can agree on one fact, only God could have created things as wonderful as we see each time we sit in a tree stand, hide in a turkey blind, or cast another bait.

From seeing a squirrel working diligently to get ready for the winter, or watching a family of raccoons move in line like an army platoon, to listening to the familiar low of a mourning dove, there is no doubt about the hand of God upon this earth. Everyone can believe this truth, but a hunter and fisherman see it and understand it like no other. That is what this column is all about. I hope to share with you the view of heaven from the perspective of those who spend time in the outdoors. Those of you who hunt and fish will understand and those of you who don't perhaps will want to, by taking a gun into the woods or a fishing rod to the lake and sitting quietly, away from those things that are man-made, and waiting on God to speak through other things as simple as the sparrows that do not fall to the ground without His knowing.

Welcome to my world and the world of millions of others who hunt and fish and spend time in God's great outdoors.

James Becknell to participate in fall play at Union

James Becknell of Booneville will be participating in this year's fall theatre production at Union College. The production is "A...My Name is Alice," a contemporary musical. Becknell, a sophomore at Union, will participate as sound crew and construction crew. It is scheduled for five performances, Nov. 1-2 and 7-9, beginning at 8:00 each evening. Diane Montgomery, Ph.D., assistant professor of theatre, is directing as well as acting in the play.

According to Montgomery, "A...My Name is Alice" is "a hilarious and touching musical about women, women's points of view, women's relationships, the men they love and the men they love to hate."
